

Supporting each other in Whiteparish through the coronavirus crisis

The restrictions on our movement, contact and access to shops and services mean that we are all inconvenienced but some of us will be experiencing considerable difficulties on a day-to-day basis.

If you are feeling lonely or vulnerable, or need some practical help, there is a group of volunteers who are prepared to support you, for example by:

- collecting medical prescriptions and delivering to you
- essential food shopping
- essential household item shopping
- calling you by telephone to check that you're ok or just for a chat
- anything else we may be able to help with

Of course, we will be following all Governmental advice on social distancing and personal protection. More Government help and advice may be on the way and we will take this into account: there is no intention of replacing or disrupting any official channels of assistance.

Please contact us on the telephone numbers below or by e-mail if we can help (or if you can help us)

Collection and delivery of prescriptions for patients in the HIGHEST RISK category.

Those patients must tell the surgery at the time of ordering that they would like these delivered and the surgery will do their best for this to happen. If you want to use this service please register by telephone to the following contacts: David Guild 01794 884416 Mike Hayday 01794 884110 Maria Pennington 01722 711858
